

SPECIAL NEW INITIATIVES OR IDEAS ADOPTED IN THE COLLEGE (OTHER THAN AT SR. NO. 5.2)

Special Initiative 1: “Donor’s Nook”: Book Donation and Reading Guidance

The college has started an initiative called Donor’s Nook to encourage reading and knowledge sharing. In this practice, teachers and non-teaching staff donate books to the college library. A separate almirah has been kept for these books, and each book has been numbered. An issue register is maintained to record when books are borrowed and returned.

To make the activity more meaningful, staff members also hold short sessions with students. In these sessions, they talk about one book they donated, explain why it is important and encourage students to read it.

This initiative helps in increasing the number of books in the library and also gives students guidance on useful reading material. It also builds a closer connection between staff and students through the habit of reading.

Report on Contributions for Annual Prize Distribution Programme

Best Practice : Report on PTA and College Staff Members (Teaching and Non-Teaching) Donation for Annual Function 2024-25

1. Title of the Best Practice:

Community Collaboration through Volunteer Donations for Annual Function 2024-25

2. Objective of the Practice:

- To encourage active participation of PTA and college staff (both teaching and non-teaching) in the institution's cultural and academic events.
- To foster a sense of collective ownership and responsibility towards student development.
- To generate financial and in-kind support for the successful organization of the Annual Function.

2. The Context:

The Annual Function is one of the most significant events in the college calendar, requiring substantial funding and resources. Given financial constraints, the institution sought contributions from the PTA and staff as a best practice to enhance event execution without burdening students. The initiative also aimed at strengthening institutional bonding and shared responsibility.

4. The Practice:

- A voluntary donation drive was initiated among PTA members, teaching, and non-teaching staff.
- A structured communication plan was executed through meetings and official notifications to ensure transparency and inclusivity.
- Contributions were accepted in the form of monetary donations (decorations, stage props, refreshments), and services (logistics, event coordination, etc.).
- Utilization of funds and resources was monitored and reported to ensure accountability.

5. Evidence of Success:

- The event was conducted successfully with enhanced decorations, high-quality performances, and well-managed logistics.
- Increased engagement from staff and PTA members fostered a sense of belonging and teamwork.
- Transparency in fund utilization strengthened trust between the administration and stakeholders.
- The initiative set a precedent for future collaborations, ensuring sustainability.

7. Conclusion and Future Scope:

This practice proved to be a significant step in institutional development by fostering a spirit of volunteerism. Moving forward, a formalized framework can be developed to sustain and expand such contributions annually. Encouraging corporate sponsorships and alumni participation can further amplify resource availability and event quality.

Newsletter from December 2024-May 2025

1. Yoga and Meditation

A Yoga and Meditation session was held on 04 December 2024 at Maa Bhangayani Temple Complex, organised by Prof. Purvashi. The aim of the session was to help students improve their mental well-being and find inner peace. The session included guided meditation, yoga asanas, breathing exercises and relaxation techniques. Students took part with great interest and gave positive feedback regarding the session.

2. Red Ribbon Club (RRC)

On 04 December 2024 the college observed World AIDS Day with a series of impactful activities aimed at raising awareness about HIV/AIDS and fostering empathy for those affected. The students then formed a "flash mob" in two locations i.e. the college premises and Maa Bhangayani Temple Complex which not only captivated the audience but also effectively conveyed the importance of solidarity with those suffering from HIV/AIDS. In the college premises, a symbolic red ribbon pinning ceremony was held, with faculty and students coming together to their support for those suffering from HIV/AIDS. Another highlight of the day was a human chain activity where students formed a Red Ribbon by standing in queues within the college premises.
